Extend Dragon Medical One clinical value

Dragon Medical Clinical Calculators allow easy calculation of various scores and indices within a user-friendly interface. Clinicians increase productivity while improving charting compliance and supporting consistent and complete clinical documentation. Clinical Calculators support informed clinical decision-making through access to 30+ evidence-based calculators—medical equations, scores, and algorithms—that are based on well-established methodologies that have been present in the medical literature for over ten years and approved by third-party health associations.

As a cloud-based solution, Dragon Medical One gives clinicians access to a growing library of clinical calculators throughout the clinician documentation workflow—all with no additional software to install and for no additional cost. Users must register their Nuance Healthcare ID before they can access them through the Dragon Bar or by saying “Open Clinical Calculators.”
